

WORLD'S GREATEST PSYCHOLOGIST

Time taken: Around 30 minutes

Materials needed: A sense of creativity!

Social and Emotional Learning (SEL) skills practiced: Empathy, Creative Acting, Group Awareness, Self Awareness

Steps:

- Gather all the players and elect one "Psychologist" to leave the room for a moment
- All other players decide on some sort of problem or issue they are facing
- Invite the psychologist back in the room and have all players act out the issue or have conversations to give hints about what the issue is.
- The psychologist gets 3 (or more) guesses based on the silly acting and conversations happening all around them!

Here are some example maladies to get you started:

- » Everyone believes they are three years old
- » Everyone believes they are on the moon
- » Everyone believes they are a pretty, pretty princess
- » Everyone believes they are the world's best hairdresser
- » Everyone believes they are late for class
- » Everyone is afraid of the floor

World's Greatest Psychologist creates a space for kids to share their emotions in a fun and safe way. Share some of the fun antics your kids create with us on Facebook, Instagram using @cfmoab and #coyotescorner, or by email education@cfmoab.org
